Common-Law Husband Admits He Killed Lover In Bedroom

By TED OSHODI

A Franklin Township man, charged with murder in the Sept. 12 slaying of his common-law wife has admitted to police that he shot the woman he had been going with for two years, homicide detective Robert West told The CALL & POST Tuesday.

The man, according to West, refused to say why he killed his live-in partner. Detective West presented evidence in the case Tuesday to the grand jury.

West said the victim, Lavetta J. Code, 39, an employee of Robert-Shaw Controls, Co., in Grove City, and the suspect, 24-year-old Kevin L. Staughter, both of 299 Nationwide Blvd., had been involved in a number of domestic problems in the past.

Staughter is expected to appear before Franklin County Municipal Court Judge Sidney Golden for a preliminary hearing in the case this week, according to court records.

Staughter was being held in the Franklin County Jail Tuesday on a $25,000 surety bond.

Staughter is accused of shooting Ms. Code at about 1:30 a.m. while the two were in the bedroom of the apartment they shared, according to police.

Code was reportedly shot once in the forehead with a .22 caliber pistol during the scuffle that ensued in the apartment.

Mrs. Joan Harrison, Code's mother, of 492 S. James Rd.,

told The CALL & POST that her daughter and Staughter were said to be arguing that evening while they were leaving a club house. She said she wouldn't know what the argument was about.

However, Mrs. Harrison described her daughter as a straight forward person, and not a street girl.

Whittaker-Diehl Funeral Services, Inc., 720 E. Long St., handled funeral arrangements for Code who was buried last Friday at the East Lawn Cemetery.

She is survived by her daughter, Sheree Pierce, 22; mother, Mrs. Joan Harrison; brothers, Don E. Pierce and

Fallen Firefighter Laid To Rest With Highest Tributes

By TED OSHODI

"Life is what you make it. Live life one day at a time, making each day a masterpiece...."

That is one line of Maurice Gates' poem he wrote several months before tragedy struck, killing the Columbus firefighter at the tender age of 21.

Gates died while fighting a Westside blaze on Sept. 15, less than a month to his 22nd birthday.

And that was the agony of his firefighting career, a career that beckoned him on to a service to humanity. That service was quenched when Gates was laid to rest last Saturday amid emotion-charged funeral services attended by hundreds of people, including representatives of firefighters from across Ohio.

Aside from his firefighting career, Gates was and he's still known and respected for his many talents in the areas of arts and other extra-curricular activities while in school.

Gates developed the undying knack for his art works at the age of 13, when he started collecting comic books.

He collected more than 2,000 comic books and cartoons, read them and re-created the characters by drawing and painting such fictional characters as Spider-Man, Shang Chi, Captain America and many more he posted on the walls of his apartment at 45 W. Starr Ave., that he and his older brother Ronald Gates, 24, shared.

Maurice idolized the Jamaican Bob Marley, and at one time his brother said he (Maurice) wanted to go to Jamaica to visit the musician, whose photographs are plastered on the walls in his bedroom.

While attending Starling Jr. High School, Maurice won awards for some of his art works. He studied art and sculpture at the Ohio Wesleyan University.

JACKSON INDICTED

A 94-count indictment in the rape-burglary case of a 38-year-old Columbus physician was handed down Wednesday by a Franklin County grand jury.

Dr. Edward F. Jackson Jr., arrested Sept. 5, while allegedly caught attempting a burglary job, was indicted on 46 burglary counts, 36 rapes, four attempted rapes, five gross sexual impositions, two kidnappings, and one count of possession of criminal tools.

Immediately following the indictment, Jackson, who was free on a $25,000 bond, turned himself in and was arraigned by Common Pleas Court Judge Craig Wright, who set a $100,000 surety bond and a $200,000 recognizance bond. Jackson was being held in Franklin County jail at Call and

Bishop Retires Following Nine Year Commitment To Humanity

By JANICE D. HAMLET

Bishop Edward Herrmann's accomplishments are many. He attacked racism, denounced abortion and spoke out for the peaceful desegregation of Columbus schools. But after nine years of leading the 23 county diocese, the bishop retires.

In a statement to the press, Herrmann said, "As I grow older, I find it more and more difficult to cope with the pressures of administration."

"when I began to serve in the Chancery of the Archdiocese of Washington, I have been involved continually in administration. Now, after these 31 years, I wish to be free of this responsibility."

Herrmann will remain in Columbus as Apostolic administrator until a successor is named by the Vatican. Then he will return to the Archdiocese of Washington where he formerly was auxiliary bishop.

John Scales' Parole Hearing May Be Delayed Until 1985

By JOHN B. COMBS

John E. Scales, imprisoned Columbus union leader, may be home for Christmas.

But on the other hand, according to the Bureau of Prisons in Washington, he may not come home until sometime in 1985.

Scales, former business agent of Local 423 of Laborers International Union, was convicted in 1978 on 10 counts of conspiracy and misuse of union funds and is serving a 10-year term in the Terre Haute, Ind., federal prison.

According to information obtained at the Bureau of Prisons, the 53-year-old former union czar appeared before the U.S. Parole Commission in December 1981. The parole was denied with the hearing continued for 66 months.

However, the commission noted that it is within its discretion to hold a "presumptive parole hearing" earlier. Under certain conditions, the Commission may also grant furloughs to inmates. Furloughs hinge on the inmate's good behavior during incarceration. The CALL & POST was advised.

JOHN SCALES
"...parole up in the air"

So it appears that banning a furlough or a presumptive hearing, Scales will be required to serve an additional four and a half years before he'll be considered for parole.

Granting furloughs is a common practice of the Prison Commission, a U.S. Parole officer told The CALL & POST. Inmates who have met all parole requirements are frequently furloughed to half-way houses to serve out their parole, he said.

Paroles are granted only after an inmate has been assured of a place to live and employment, the parole officer explained. He emphasized that "we have absolutely nothing to do with granting paroles. Our responsibility is to supervise a parolee assigned to us by the prison commission," he said.

Scales, in addition to holding

MICRO-COMPUTERS will be one of the areas explored during the "Explorations in Mathematics and Engineering" classes to be held this fall for talented minority students in grades seven through nine who enjoy math and science. Classes will be held at the Ohio State University. For more information contact Ruby Edwards at 422-6320.

Classes Planned

The Ohio State University College of Engineering's Worth Extra Effort (WE²) program will conduct classes in "Explorations in Mathematics and Engineering" this fall.

The goal of the program is to find talented minority students in grades seven through nine who enjoy challenging ideas and problem solving situations and provide them with experiences that will enrich their understanding of math and science.

Computers will be an area students will explore.

Classes will be held on the OSU campus each Saturday morning that the university is in regular session, beginning Sept. 25. The classes will be free for participants.

Parents, interested in enrolling the children in the program should contact Ms. Ruby Edwards at 422-6320 between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m.

East High To Perform

The East High School Band, sponsored by the Tiger Instrumental Music Enthusiasts, Inc. will be on the march Oct. 18 and 25 from 9:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. to raise funds for the Tiger Band.

The Tiger band will perform street concerts on the East and North sides of Columbus. This is the second year TIME has sponsored street concerts.

The funds raised are used exclusively for the band uniforms, instruments and other equipment. This year funds will be especially earmarked for instruments so more young people will be able to participate in the music program.

For more information contact Ed Williams, East High School.

30 Minority Students Complete PepsiCo Lead Developmental Program

Attending business school in the heart of New York City during the month of July would rank far down on the list of priorities for many of the nation's minority teenagers.

But for Darwyn Banks and 29 other bright-eyed students from all over the country, the summer of '82 may have been the most educational and rewarding session they'll ever have. Thanks to a unique program called LEAD (leadership, education and development), sponsored by PepsiCo, Inc., the $7 billion worldwide consumer products and services company, and conducted at Columbia University, some of these intelligent young minds became acquainted with—and in many cases stimulated towards—business careers.

PepsiCo, which includes such familiar names as Pepsi-Cola, Frito-Lay, Taco Bell, Pizza Hunt, Wilson Sporting Goods and North American Van Lines, helped initiate the LEAD program as part of a nationwide undertaking.

In 1981 the company was one of the co-sponsors at the University of Pennsylvania's Wharton School of Business and this year PepsiCo increased its commitment by becoming the exclusive sponsor of the Columbia University program in which Darwyn participated.

"This has definitely been the most important learning experience of my life," said one participant after completing the rigorous four-week course.

During their month-long stay on the Ivy League campus, these minority student leaders were exposed to classroom instruction in business fundamentals, participated in case studies and were stimulated by presentations by representatives of major corporations such as PepsiCo, IBM, Dow Jones and Goldman Sachs. But the highlight of the month was a trip to the White House and a personal question-and-answer session on the West Potomac with President Ronald Reagan.

ENTHUSIASM FOR EDUCATION—These 30 minority high school students spent the summer learning about the business world in the LEAD program, a unique one sponsored by PepsiCo, Inc. at Columbia University. The program is designed to foster leadership, education and development.

After completing his junior year at The Columbus Academy, Darwyn arrived at New York's Columbia campus in late June and began not only a four-week "business acquaintance course," but also had to learn to make his way around the nation's largest city. Thanks to a group of Resident Advisers (former LEAD participants themselves) and the expert guidance of James I. Clark, program director at Columbia, the transition for Darwyn was an easy one.

In addition to the trips already mentioned, Darwyn had a chance to chat also with national minority leader, Vernon Jordan, as well as members of the National Association of Manufacturers in Washington, D.C.

The object of LEAD is to enlarge the ranks of minority managers and executives by reaching them while they are in high school...before they choose career paths. Black, Hispanic, Oriental and native American potential leaders, who might otherwise choose the traditional professions of law or medicine, are exposed to the full world of business and learn of opportunities for rewarding and lucrative careers through a LEAD

COLUMBUS PARTICIPANT—Paul McNulty, left, professor at Columbia University, congratulates Darwyn Banks upon the successful completion of the LEAD (Leadership, Education and Development) program sponsored by PepsiCo, Inc., at Columbia U. in New York City. Banks is a junior at the Columbus Academy.

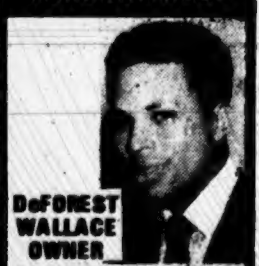

AWARD WINNER—Anthony Leverette, an accounts payable employee at Lazarus Department Store, has been named an Outstanding Young Man of America for 1982. Leverette is a junior at Franklin University majoring in business administration. He is a member of Mt. Olivet Baptist Church.

Virgil Brown Spells Out Basic Duties Of Secretary Of State

PRESENTING GUESTS-Amos H. and Geri Lynch (facing camera) as they happily welcome guests to an "Evening With Virgil Brown" at the Merry Makers Club on Sept. 8. The Lynches chat with three unidentified guests before presenting them to the busy Secretary of State candidate, Stephen D. Cheek, co-chairman of Virgil's Franklin County campaign, looks on at left.

By JOHN B. COMBS

Speaking before more than 100 men and women, both Democrats and Republicans, Virgil Brown stepped up the pace of his campaign for Secretary of State last week by citing his qualifications and proven experience in the election process.

Brown, who is campaigning on the theme of "VOTE VIRGIL," reminded his Merry Makers Club audience that the responsibility of protecting "one of our most important rights...the right to vote, rests with the Secretary of State, Ohio's chief elections official."

Virgil, appearing to be more aggressive than in previous campaign appearances, spoke of his intimate knowledge of the responsibility he would assume as Ohio's next Secretary of State.

Of his record of public achievements, Virgil noted that his seven years as director of the scandal-plagued Cuyahoga County Board of Elections eminently qualified him for the office he seeks.

It is widely known that when Virgil became elections board director in 1972, he inherited an office rife with scandal, inefficiencies and confusion. But under his supervision, an election board which had once been an embarrassment, soon became a smoothly efficient operation other counties across the state respected.

Amos H. Lynch, Columbus CALL & POST general manager and who hosted the "evening with Virgil" event with the able assistance of his wife, Geri, in introducing Virgil said:

"We need a Secretary of State of Virgil's established record of achievements. Moreover, that as secretary of state, Virgil will assure us of one of our basic rights being protected."

Then Lynch challenged both Republicans and Democrats to come out from hiding and not only support Virgil with your vote but your pocketbook.

As election board director, Virgil presided for seven years over a network of 1742 precincts, and an annual budget of some $6 million and an election force of 10,000 workers to assure each person's enfranchisement, he frequently points out.

Virgil's experience is not limited just to election law. Since 1979, he has been a Cuyahoga County Commissioner, and since 1981, president of the board of commissioners. As such, he is responsible for an annual budget of $800 million and the county's 12,000 employees.

He also served three consecutive terms in Cleveland's

City Council.

Following his brief remarks, Virgil introduced several of his campaign workers in Franklin County. They included Carl Graf, vice president of BancOhio, his Franklin County financial chairman.

Also introduced were co-chairpersons, Carolyn Petree, wife of former City Councilman Charles Petree, Stephen D. Cheek, both of Franklin County, Robert Fisher, Stark County (Canton), and Ronald Morgan of Cincinnati, who represented J. Kenneth Blackwell, co-chairman of Hamilton County.

Virgil's campaign manager, Roy Shinnberry, and State Republican Organization Chairman Michael F. Colley, were also in attendance.

Colley, incidentally, personally negotiated Virgil's endorsement and cleared the way for him to run without primary opposition.

During his closing remarks, Virgil credited his seven years as chief of the largest board of elections in the state, and ninth in the nation with eminently preparing him for the office of secretary of state.

He then urged his guests to keep in mind and spread the word of his all around qualifications and the fact that his opponent (Sherrill Brown) has absolutely no experience in the state's election process.

Shamansky Scored Points In Debate On Minority Issues

By JOHN B. COMBS

The debate between Bob Shamansky, 12th Congressional District Democrat incumbent, and State Sen. John Kasich, his Republican challenger, produced no clearcut winner.

But if the winner had been based on the responses of the 500 attending the Columbus Metropolitan Club sponsored forum, Shamansky scored significant points on two questions proposed by members of the audience.

Tom Fullove, former president of the Columbus NAACP and member of Kasich's campaign team, directed this question to both candidates:

What is your recommendation or solutions to the ever growing problems facing blacks and minority people?

Kasich's answer: "We've got to get the interest rates down. We've got to make things competitive again and I also support the set aside bill that helps to bring minority businessmen into the main major sphere of economic activities which I think is crucial."

But the interest rate issue is the key one and that only happens when we move into the area of budget balancing and not sending billions and billions of dollars in the hole. We ought to maintain the federal set aside program just like I supported in the Ohio Senate to give opportunity and put people to work," Kasich said. Of course, he received polite applause.

Shamansky: "One of the key bases where people have been discriminated against in business, with respect to women, is that they earn only 59 percent for a dollar earned by men, and yet the administration opposes that." It was at that point that Shamansky's voice was drowned out by enthusiastic applause of the predominantly female audience.

After the applause ended, Shamansky continued, saying: "I don't think that this administration is helping minority people when it tends to give tax deductible ability to racist schools. So it's a broader situation. We got to get people for equal rights and civil rights into positions of power, instead of people who are really insensitive to those rights. I think we have to look at the facts and I think my record stands up with the best of them."

On a question relative to a

Columbus Dispatch story reporting that Shamansky's office expenses exceed by far those of Cong. Chalmers P. Wylie and those of his predecessor (Sam Devine), in his defense Shamansky said:

"In fairness to my predecessor, I think my predecessor didn't have any electric typewriters, not even a memory typewriter. I pledged to try to

One Took A Stand

John Hawkins, the first black cheerleader at the University of Mississippi, proudly refused to carry the confederate battle flag, the university's symbol, on the football field. His staunch position shocked much of the white community and brought to the surface existing racism and bigotry.

Although Hawkins is a cheerleader for the university and the rebel flag is its symbol, Hawkins says he is still a black man and has not forgotten his history, especially how blacks first became students at Mississippi University, still referred to as "Ole Miss".

October 1, 1962, James H. Meredith, escorted by Federal Marshalls, became the first black student to enroll at the University of Mississippi amidst student rioting that took 3,000 troops to quell. And though it's many years later, and seven percent of the university's student enrollment is black, there are still attitudes of bigotry and hatred that are demonstrated by such petty statements as "I don't like the idea of a black man touching a white woman and liftin' her over his head and catching her and all that kind of thing."

Hawkins took a stand against the subtle but symbolic apparatuses used to foster racism. He has proven that one voice can be heard loudly and clearly in denunciation of racial injustice.

Black Theatre Returns

Black theater is back. A board has been formed to give new life to black cultural arts in Columbus. Operating under the Center Stage Theatre, the board has already scheduled its fall presentations.

The board is headed by Donald Day, first vice president of the AFSCME, and includes a diverse group of people from all segments and areas of the city.

Black theater has always been one of the most important vehicles for black expression, Day said, adding that with the demise of Columbus Stage Center, there was no continuous theater performances that dealt with the black experience.

With technical assistance from the Community Arts Project, Greater Columbus Arts Council and the Ohio Arts Council, the new board is looking to a new day in black theater here. "There's tons of talent just going to waste, especially among our young people," Day commented. "We simply cannot afford that kind of loss."

The Center Stage Theatre's performances will be at the YWCA at 65 S. Fourth St. Downtown. The first production, which begins Oct. 1, is Ron Milner's "Who's Got His Own." We hope the theatre is packed.

Cleveland has its famous and historic Karamu House, why shouldn't Columbus begin to build toward just as noteworthy and meaningful a theater group? Let's not wait until outsiders do what we can do ourselves. Support for Center Stage Theater is urgent and essential.

Let's Be Progressive

C. Norman Collins getting around to do what many hoped he would do when they elected him President of the Columbus Chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP). Collins' working with members of the civil rights organization that leads to advocacy for improvement in the overall conditions of its constituents is being effective.

C. NORMAN COLLINS

Compared with all the catching up the chapter has to do, the effort may seem small to some. But under Collins' leadership the chapter is seeking to register at least 8,000 new voters for the Nov. 2 election. The chapter is also hard at work recruiting new members. In addition, the chapter has continued to be adamant about its opposition to police brutality and excessive use of force, opposing housing discrimination and employment discrimination, as well as addressing the social needs of the community in general.

Of course there are those dissatisfied with Collins and the NAACP, but we fail to see where these detractors have offered anything better that has held the community's ear longer than brief moment. In this aspect, we would be wise to take a lesson from Shakespeare's "Julius Caesar." After his critics had managed to slay him, what better did they offer after him?

Collins and the NAACP is open to constructive criticism that's going to improve the well being of the entire community. And no doubt it would go a long way toward making the organization as effective as it should be as an arm in the struggle to help blacks receive their due.

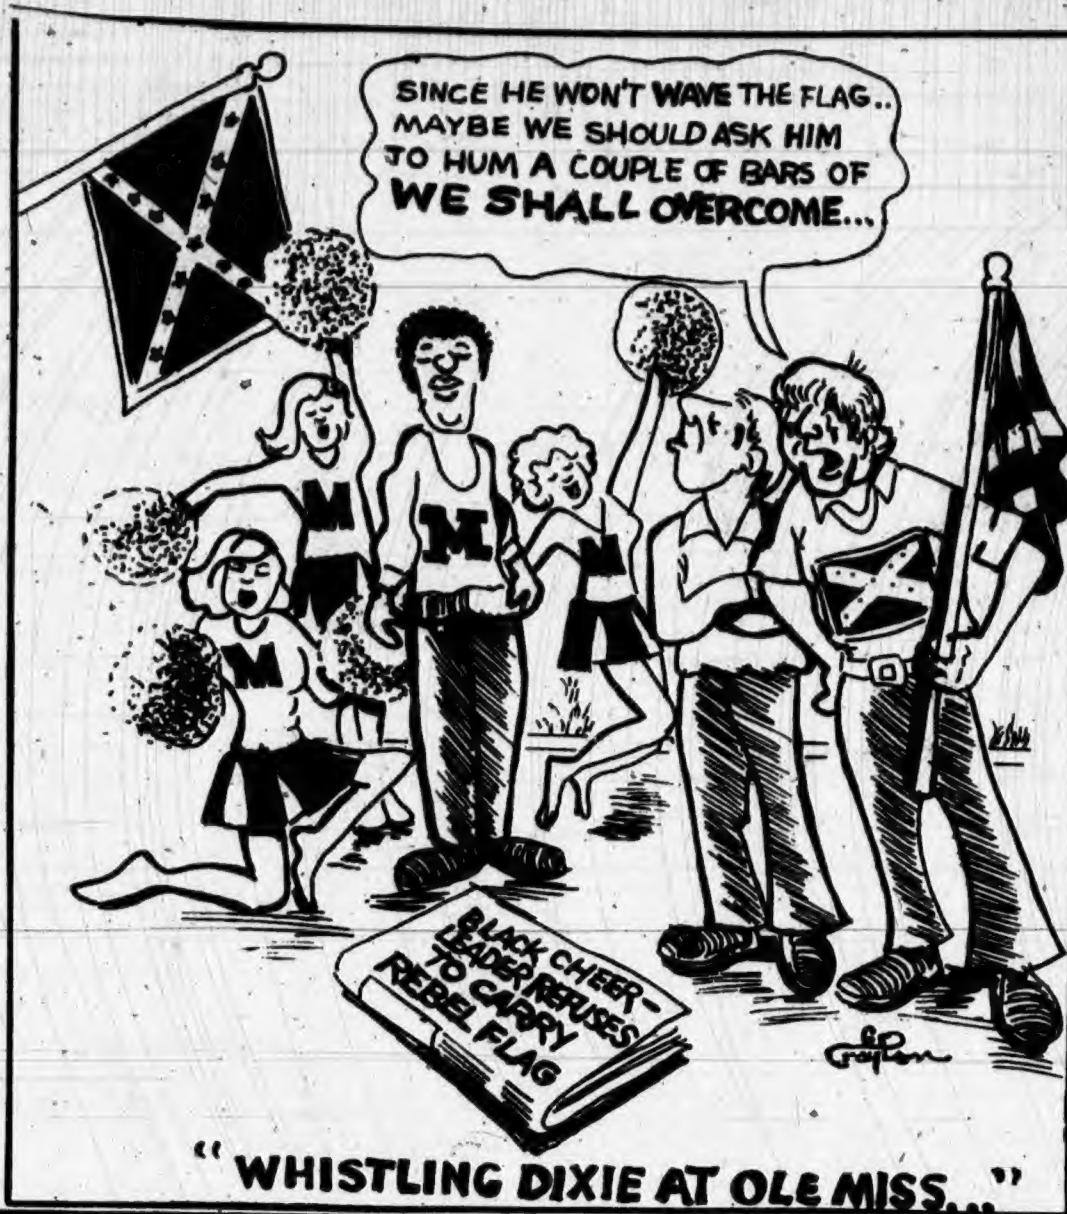

Joining the organization would certainly be a step in that direction. It's a matter of numbers that decide who'll be president of this country. With a huge NAACP membership, do you think anyone would dare shut the door in its face. Well, when the NAACP goes forward, so do we. Call 464-1108 and let them know you have similar feelings. Let's make the 1980s a decade of progress.

House Bill 605 Important

Chances for passage of House Bill 605, which would require children under 4 years old and younger, or weighing less than 40 pounds, be secured with safety seat restraints, were drastically hurt when the Senate Rules Committee chose to hold the bill in a 6-to-3 vote.

Ohio legislators may still have the opportunity to vote for the bill when they return after the November election. We urge these legislators to pass this important bill.

Rep. I. Fisher, the chief sponsor of this bill, says this requirement will reduce child injuries and fatalities by 90 percent.

Voting News

The last day a person may register to vote is October 4, in order to vote in the November 2nd General Election. Registered voters who have voted in one election within the past four years are eligible to vote in this election.

There have been questions recently regarding the order in which offices are to appear on the November 2, 1982, general election ballot. Ohio Revised Code Section 3505.03 lists the order partisan offices are to appear on the ballot as: governor and lieutenant governor, attorney general, auditor of state, secretary of state, treasurer of state, United States senator, representative to congress, state senator, state representative, county commissioner, full term, county commissioner unexpired term, county auditor, and unexpired terms for other county offices. The next offices are on the nonpartisan ballot and immediately follow the office type ballot: state board of education, supreme court justices, judges of the court of appeals, judges of courts of common pleas, and county court judges. See Ohio Revised Code Section 3505.04.

Speakers Bureau To Aid U.N.C.F. Campaign

By CHUCK RICHARDSON, UNCF Volunteer

The black college has had a profound effect on the aspirations of the black community. Against great odds, these institutions have not only changed the lives of black Americans, but the life of America. They are examples of social responsibility and academic excellence wedded together.

W.E.B. DuBois, a renowned black scholar and graduate of Fisk University, had the occasion 80 years ago to speak of the function of the black college. DuBois concluded that the black college "must maintain the standards of popular education, it must seek the social regeneration of the Negro, and it must help in the solution of problems of race, contact, and cooperation. And, finally, beyond all this, it must develop men."

The DuBois statement about function of the black college is still appropriate today. The conditions for black people in American society have changed somewhat; however, in many ways they remain the same. Without the black college over the past one hundred years, there is good reason to think seriously about paying back our debts to the black institutions that nurtured us. Over the years, the accomplish-believe that those conditions would be much worse.

I see the black college as a most significant repository of Afro-American history and culture. This should be a source of pride for all black Americans, even those who attended predominantly white colleges. My years at Virginia Union University (Richmond, Virginia) were some of the most rewarding of my life. I left there with a deep respect not only for the black college, but for all black institutions, whether they be the church, the family, or black business. This respect prepares one to handle willingly the redeeming obligation of support for all black institutions. This respect causes us to lishments of the black college, have been most impressive. Nevertheless, even today, it is challenged to justify its existence. Dr. Luther Foster, former president of Tuskegee Institute, responding to the challenge stated that "No one ever asks why we need Notre Dame, Brandeis, or Yeshiva or any of the other special purpose institutions. Those schools helped people who were not well off get a hold. It helped them preserve some of their past, and it helped them as a group to charge into the future. That's the same role the black colleges have performed through all these years. If it were not for the black college, the nation would not be as pluralistic as it is." No, excellence is not a new phenomenon at the black private college. The large majority of America's black leaders, politicians, and businessmen of today are products of the black college. This excellence must be continued. Forty-three private black colleges are supported by the United Negro College Fund, now in its 38th year. The facts about these colleges and the "College Fund" need to be heard and responded to by individuals and organizations of our community.

As part of the public relations effort of the 1982 fund raising campaign of the United Negro College Fund, a Speakers Bureau has been organized. Persons knowledgeable of the private black college and the efforts of the United Negro College Fund, are available to speak to business, social, and religious groups. Requests for speakers should be made through the United Negro College Fund Headquarters. Be reminded that "A mind is a terrible thing to waste."

How Blacks Fought Birth Of A Nation

Although Richard Pryor has emerged as Hollywood's top-grossing star, the majority of Black performers today are unemployed and Black "stars" have had the movie-industry door shut in their face.

But did you know that between 1910 and 1950 there were more than 150 independent film companies organized to produce Black-cast movies, and that 34 percent were owned and operated by Afro-Americans?

Stephin' Fetchit wasn't the only Black movie star in Hollywood during the twenties. Black movie stars have been in Hollywood ever since movies began. But their past accomplishments in the American cinema go largely unrecognized. Because of a paucity of Black faces in movies today, you get the distinct impression that it has always been that way. Nothing could be further from the truth.

Since 1920, hundreds of Black-cast films have been produced — most of them obscured by history. Yesteryear's Hollywood featured Nina Mae McKinney, the silver screen's first Black love goddess.

Tony Brown's Comments

Between 1920 and 1950, over 150 pioneer companies produced films with all-Black casts.

Injustice, produced by the Democracy Film Corporation, was the Afro-American answer to The Clansman. Also called Loyal Hearts and finished in 1919, Injustice was a commercial failure because Whites would not go to see it.

But the fighting, survival spirit of Black America was there. In "a plea for the Loyal Colored Citizens of the United States," written and directed by Leslie T. Peacocke, the advertisement promised: "It will be an occasion never to be forgotten as it will be the inauguration of the first BIG FILM FEATURE made by the Colored Race, and the starting of an industry in the Colored Community of Los Angeles that will mean that disbursement of millions of dollars amongst our Colored Citizens and permanent employment for hundreds of capable people of both sexes, including children and old people."

The "Colored" producers promised that "In Justice" would be "long talked of and written about in the annals of the Colored Race." That part of the prophesy is still to be fulfilled.

With a consistent and cruel omission, American history has forced facts such as these to fade into antiquity. Without a knowledge of "In Justice," one is implicitly taught that the Black creative community failed to respond to the racist Birth Of A Nation.

Knowing the facts, however, gives a continuity to the Black struggle in Hollywood and America.

And speaking of knowing the facts, Sylvia Keys and Valerie Shaw, co-founders of the L.A.-D.C. Connection, Inc., have produced the first wall calendar, depicting scenes from Black movies during Hollywood's early years, that recovers our lost history.

The "Black Hollywood: Yesterday" 1983 calendar reproduces 12 original photographs that celebrate Black cinema. It is on sale now for $6.98 (plus tax) from the L.A.-D.C. Connection, Inc., P.O. Box 38815, Valium The Tranquilizer: A Curse Or A Cure?

By OTTO McCLARRIN, WHPA Health Column

Barbara Gordon, a CBS documentary producer, has written a book which tells a wracking story of addiction to Valium. It is a story of steadily increasing doses of the tranquilizer, of convulsions and hallucinations when she suddenly stopped taking it, of stays in mental hospitals and of final release when she learned how to live without the drug.

Barbara Gordon contends that Valium is a dangerous addictive drug. But a number of experts are more cautious in their evaluation. For example, Dr. Karl Rickels, a psychiatrist at the University of Pennsylv-nia who has done several studies on Valium, has been quoted as saying Gordon's experiences were "Very atypical."

Our Readers Write

The Real Issue

I have read your articles in the Call & Post concerning the black people in Columbus, Ohio. The disapproval of the new changes in the WVCO, radio station FM, not only moved the black people but some whites as well seem to be disappointed with this drastic change.

As a black man, I am in accord with them, but some what at this moment bewildered at their reaction to a mere change of radio format, when something as drastic as the taking of a young black woman's life goes unchallenged.

I'm speaking of the incident on the northside, where a young black woman was killed in a taxi cab. This young lady was shot five times by a white cab driver. The Grand Jury has refused to indict this man for evidence or the lack of evidence. What more evidence should they need? There is the young black girl's body and the gun.

Another thing that bothers me, is that this was a Yellow

Cab way out in the North End where Northway Cabs usually handle such calls. I myself use to drive a cab, and we were not allowed to carry firearms. There are black people incarcerated in prison on less evidence. You have people here who only shot a person one time in self-defense, but they are here never-the-less.

I fail to see the need for a grown man who must have outweighed this woman by at least a hundred pounds or more, to result to shooting her five times. He was able to keep the cab from striking any objects, and also able to come to a complete stop, while this young black woman was strangling him with a scarf. This is amazing, don't you think?

I think the black people in Columbus, Ohio should wake up to the real issues and get behind this black family to see that justice is granted to them and quit bickering about a radio station.

Sincerely,
George Turner

Dear Editor:

As I sipped my morning coffee and glanced at the September 8th edition of the Cleveland Plain Dealer, my attention was immediately drawn to a 6 1/4 x 6 1/4 photograph of two black men belly down on the cement surrounded by four police officers. To the left of this photograph was the headline "Ex-student held in 3 CSU slayings." My initial thought was that the two were related (i.e., one of the men in the photo was the CSU suspect).

After reading the two articles, I was totally outraged. As it turns out, the photograph referenced two black men suspected of shooting and pistol-whipping a guy on E. 85th street. The photograph of the alleged murderer at CSU, who just happens to be white, was buried in section B (approximate size of photo was 3x3).

As a public communication mechanism, you have a responsibility to the community you serve. The publication of that photograph on the front page of Ohio's largest newspaper served to reinforce/help establish negative connotations with respect to the black race. The covert message was -- Blacks are crime oriented and warrant front visibility. Hopefully, you would agree that conception is not representative of the Black race.

I feel that all Black people in this community and elsewhere deserve a public apology for your apparent lack of forethought.

Very truly yours,
Dalia Orantias

A Letter From Ex-Mayor Carth

Dear Brothers and Sisters:

The Mississippi Supreme Court has handed down one of the worst decisions in modern times. It stated, uncategorically, that a Black man, elected Mayor, has no right to carry out the powers and duties of his office. This decision has the same implications of the famous Dred Scott decision and the "separate but equal" doctrine. Those of us who live in Mississippi were not surprised by this blatant action.

Immediately, several leading newspapers in Mississippi wrote editorials applauding the court's decision, stating that I got what I deserve. Editors further stated that Blacks and whites in Mississippi are getting along just fine. The Court fined the members of the Tchula 7, $500.00 each and sentenced me to 3 years in the state penitentiary and refused to grant bond for my appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court.

Historically, no one in this state has ever been sentenced to serve time in the state penitentiary for simple assault. Nor has there been anyone who has been refused bond on a simple assault conviction. This clearly shows the malice and blatant racism on the part of the state's power structure.

As I sit here in jail, locked up, isolated from everyone, uncomfortable with the lack of proper facilities and services, restricted from having visitors, and away from family and friends, I want you to know that I am not discouraged at all. As a matter of fact, I am encouraged and more determined to continue the struggle for freedom and justice. When the Sheriff locked the door to my cell, I wondered, was he locking me up or himself.

The racist power structure of this state must know that they cannot judge or jail revolution, nor sentence the struggle for it. These are revolutionary times. All over the globe, men and women are revolting against old systems of exploitation and oppression, and out of the womb of a frail world, new systems of justice and equality are being born. The poor and the meek are rising Mississippi.

Another important task that I am extremely concerned about is the National Church Day. The National Coordinating Committee has proclaimed October 10, 1982 as being National Church Day on behalf of the Tchula 7. Our aim here was to have churches across the U.S. to offer a special up as never before. As we sing in my church, "I once was lost, but now I am found--was blind, but now I see."

I have recognized for some time that the task would be a difficult one. I have also realized that there would be many obstacles and stumbling blocks thrown in our pathway while we actively pursue the goals of justice, peace and equality. Though we anticipate serious attempts to disorganize our plans, this by no means should be a deterrent in achieving our goals.

I am firmly convinced that we are in the best strategic position ever, with the lines of battle clearly drawn with this latest decision. We now have the opportunity to strike a serious blow for the cause of justice in America. For this reason, my Brothers and Sisters, I encourage you to escalate all of the activities set forth in our October mobilization plans. The extremely complex process of decision making was reduced tremendously on July 26, 1982, when the National Coordinating Committee of the National Campaign, chaired by Ossie Davis, reached a final decision to organize the National March and Rally for Saturday, October 16, 1982 in Jackson, prayer during their regular service on behalf of the Tchula 7. Also, each church was to be asked to raise funds on that day for the purpose of assisting the Tchula 7 in our legal defense. I am asking, especially the clergy to put forth strong effort to see that this plan is a success.

The Tchula 7 are not being punished because we are corrupt--but because we refuse to become corrupt. We were not convicted for breaking the laws of this state--but for upholding the laws of this state. Our only crime is that we are Black and poor. To this point, it has been impossible for a Black person to receive justice in this state. However, I am optimistic by having your support, we will become victors in our struggle for justice.

Coordinator of Media and Public Relations on a national level: Don Black, Multi-Western Public Relations, Centre City Offices, 7 East Fourth Street, Suite 612, Dayton, Ohio 45402, (513) 223-8060.

Though I may not be with you for the moment, I feel that the hour nears when we will unite again. May God be with you and bless you.

As I See It

By LUCAS E. LEE

When Is It Legal

About July 13 there came out a headline "Beulah to air other tracks' races." This means that one could place a bet at Beulah on a race being run in New York City or out of the West Coast.

Shades of harassment suddenly crossed the mind of local police officers raiding bookies where citizens could go and place a bet on a horse race down Virginia way or wherever they were running. The police were ever raiding those bookies. They walked in, told everybody to leave, collected racing forms lying around on tables, took the book makers down to the police station and fined them to the tune of $300.

It was illegal and the police did their duty. The city higher-ups didn't care but those fines were a source of income for the city treasury. The sum always had to be $300 or more. That was the amount expected in gambling arrests.

That was all then. The Beulah Park offer denotes a change of attitude by law enforcement bodies. Was that old law expunged from the books so that the race track could open a bookie at one of the windows or does that law still remain on the books and someone has found a legal way of getting around the old law against suffering a game of chance?

This question is separate from the track bets for they are legal by legislation. But that window set aside for betting on races at other tracks. How do they do it?

There is no question about the practice being a suffering game of chance. If some former book maker decides to open up shop for bets on the horses in Columbus or Grove City away from the track what will be his relation with the police--constant arrest for suffering a game of chance?

There are so many instances in our American life where some can do and others are slammed behind bars for doing or have to shell out pockets of money for doing. Is there any possible difference between the promoters of the race track, Beulah Park, accepting bets on races at Pimlico or Santa Anita and some local citizen opening a bookie in some empty store, front?

There is no logical difference in that society, the citizens, decided in other times that suffering games of chance was illegal and put the prohibition of such suffering on the law books.

ENTER YOUR CAR THE EQUITABLE/SCCA FUEL EFFICIENCY CHALLENGE

Save Gas!
Save Money!

What is it?

The Equitable/SCCA Fuel Efficiency Challenge is a pleasant, informative motoring experience in which local motorists compete to see who can most improve their car's EPA gas mileage figure. Obeying all speed limits and laws, drive your own car and follow simple instructions to complete a course of approximately 85 miles of city, suburban and highway driving.

Who can enter?

Anyone can! And bring the family. You must have at least two licensed drivers per car but extra passengers are welcome. All late-model (1975-1982) cars are eligible but must be in safe operating condition. LIMITED TO FIRST ONE-HUNDRED ENTRANTS, SO HURRY!

No entry fee - we'll even pay for the gas you use! Entrants purchase initial fill-up. Any gasoline used during the Challenge course will be replaced - a full tank when you leave!

What do you get?

Every entrant receives: Free fill-up at the finish; Emission check; A surprise gift; Mileage check; Car inspection.

Winners Receive: Trophies to the winning and runner-up driver and co-driver in each class.

And, you're invited:

All drivers, co-drivers and passengers (limit 3) of entrant cars are invited to attend the Awards Reception immediately following the challenge event (4:00 p.m. to 6:00 p.m.)

Who will win?

You could! Cars will be classed according to the EPA-DOE Gas Mileage Guide (Large, mid-size, compact, sub-compact, mini-compact and two-seater). The winners will be those drivers who improve the most over the EPA figure published for their specific make, model and year of car. You don't need a new, high-mileage economy car to win. Your ability as an economic driver is what counts.

This year, for the first time, there will be three additional categories: Corporations, Manufacturers and Auto Supply Dealers.

When and where is it?

Sunday, October 3, 1982 at The Equitable's East Central Service Center, 200 East Wilson Bridge Road, Worthington, Ohio. Plan to arrive between 9:30 a.m. and 11:30 a.m., and spend the day - bring a picnic lunch - coffee will be served in the morning and cold drinks in the afternoon.

TO ENTER AND RECEIVE YOUR ENTRANT KIT CALL (614) 434-1033 (The Equitable East Central Service Center)

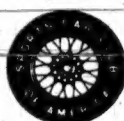

Don't want to drive?

Visit The Equitable's CAR CARE CARNIVAL same day, same address, from 1:00 p.m. to 4:00 p.m. Learn how to save gas and save money.

be an accessible Congressman. I work very hard at answering the mail sensibly, not thank you very much for your letter. I answer the letters and I'm the first Congressman in this area to have town meetings all over the place," he said, adding:

"I'm not going to let my predecessor, who voted three times to kill Medicare, to set my standards. I have an obligation to make my views known to the voters of this district and I have an obligation to learn of their problems and they learn from me."

"My predecessor does not set" my standards in any regards, and I clearly do not intend to be hindered by being inaccessible to people of this district," said Shamansky.

Kasich was then asked to explain his campaign slogan, "Our Way."

"Our Way," Kasich explained, "represents that I believe that I will represent a majority of the people in this district. Over 50 percent of the people in this district, in my opinion, subscribe to my philosophy over my opponent's. And that's what Our Way means."

Shamansky noted that was a personal question, so he would not comment on it directly, but he said:

"If you think education is expensive, try ignorance."

At the outset, both candidates responded to the following four questions prepared by the club:

What direction should America take in its economic policy?

Where should America's defense policy be directed?

What is America's foreign policy role in the world?

Should Congress move toward a "New Federalism" that changes the relationship between the federal government and the local/state governmental units?

Luke Feck, Editor, The Columbus Dispatch, the moderator, kept the program moving in line with the timing schedule.

And while there may not have been a clear cut debate winner, the Columbus Sheraton Ballroom audience appeared to have loved every minute of it.

Free Meals

The Southside Day Care Center, 255 Reeb Ave., is sponsoring a child care food program. This program provides free meals to children at the center, regardless of race, color, or national origin, the center announced this week.

National Baptist Leader Unseated

By MARGARET WILLIAMS

The Rev. Joseph H. Jackson was unseated as president of the 6.3 million-member National Baptist Convention, U.S.A., when more than 15,000 delegates voted 3-to-1 to oust the man who had been their leader since 1953 at the group's 102nd annual session in Miami Beach, Fla.

Jackson's successor is the Rev. T.J. Jemison, secretary of the convention, who was the first to challenge Jackson since 1961, when a coup became so heated a person died. At that time, Gardner Taylor and a number of others defected and formed the Progressive National Baptist Convention.

Following Jemison's election he recommended that the ousted president receive the post of emeritus, a $15,000 honorarium and a testimonial dinner in his hometown. Jemison also suggested that the organization give a president a five-year term with the opportunity for reelection for an additional five years.

Jemison was strongly supported by the Rev. Jesse Jackson, who heads the Chicago-based People United To Save Humanity (PUSH) and the Rev. A.A. Waller of Shiloh Baptist Church in Cleveland.

Jemison pastored Mt. Zion First Baptist Church in Baton Rouge, La. for 33 years. He was characterized by Jesse Jackson as a friend of the late Dr.

Martin Luther King and one who shares King's philosophies.

Pastor of Olivet Baptist Church, Chicago, for the past 41 years, the out-going president was known for his opposition to civil rights demonstrations and spoke up for job preparedness as a better hope for black achievement.

Pastor Waller stated that he is simply elated over the election and feels that in the near future there will be a reuniting. He was a staunch supporter of Jemison, whose platform was "Here I Stand." Jemison has promised to lead the convention and address the major issues that negatively affect black people, including unemployment, public education, and to institute a policy on future elections that will guarantee they be orderly, fair and properly conducted.

Ohioans supporting Dr. Jackson's re-election were: Drs. James Stallworth, John T. Weeden, M.L. Gabriel, M.J. Mitchell, E.T. Caviness, T.L. Lane, Eddie Henry and B.A. Green.

Many of the delegates stated that Dr. Jackson was not too happy about his ouster.

Pastor Jordon Dies At 49; Described As 'Anointed One'

Funeral services were held last week for Elder Ernest Jordon, pastor of Hall's Memorial Church of God in Christ, 1971 Payne Ave.

Jordon, who died at 49, had pastored the Eastside Pentecostal Church for 18 years. He also served as the State's executive secretary to Bishop R.S. Fields, Ohio North Jurisdiction, for the past four years.

Jordon, who until his death was also the chairman of the Liberty district churches of God in Christ, was born in Domino, Ky. He studied medicine at Wilberforce University, and later entered the ministry. He served in Springfield under the auspices of Bishop David Austin at the New Covenant Church of God in Christ, before coming to Columbus.

In his eulogy of Jordon, Bishop Fields quoted II Samuel 3:38: "...Know ye not that there is a Prince and a great man fallen this day in Israel?"

Fields described Jordon as not only an effective administrator and gifted speaker, but also as an "anointed one."

Jordon, known and called affectionately as "Dad," "Little Brother" and "Grandpa" is survived by his wife, Ruth Jordon, three step-sons, two step-daughters, seven grandchildren, brothers, sisters and other relatives.

Jordon was buried at the Greenlawn Cemetery.

We've got a good thing going with Ohio Lottery's Instant Games.

If you've ever bought an Ohio Instant Lottery ticket, and rubbed up a winner, you know what a thrill it can be. For just one dollar, you can try your luck and maybe win anywhere from $2 up to $10,000 — just like that!

Over the years, thousands of Ohioans have won millions of dollars playing the various Instant Lottery games.

But aside from the enjoyment and the prizes Ohio's Instant Lottery games have given us, they have also raised a lot of money for our State's General Revenue Fund. And that money has gone to provide services for all Ohioans. For education, mental health and other human services we all need.

So try your luck at winning a $10,000 prize. Play an Ohio Lottery instant game soon. It could be a good thing for you — and for all Ohio.

An equal opportunity employer.

Time For Shots

In proclaiming September as immunization Month, Governor James A. Rhodes cites the Ohio Department of Health and its director, Dr. John H. Ackerman, for the great strides made in getting the children of Ohio immunized against diseases that in the past crippled and killed thousands each year.

This year it is estimated that of the 140,000 children entering kindergarten classes only 5,000 will not be properly immunized when they start to school. In grades one through 12, 75,000 will not be properly immunized against nine-day measles and three-day rubella.

The Ohio School Immunization Law requires all pupils from Kindergarten through 12th grade in public and non-public schools to have the following immunizations:

* Four or more doses of diphtheria, tetanus, whooping cough (DTP) vaccine

* Three or more doses of polio vaccine.

* One rubella immunization (three-day or German measles)

* One measles immunization (nine-day, red or hard measles) received on or after the first birthday.

Mumps vaccine is not required but is strongly recommended.

Detectives Continue Search For Clues To Grisly Triple Slaying

By MARY TAYLOR

The March 9 triple slaying at Gig's Bar, 196 E. Gay St. continues to baffle homicide detectives.

Homicide Sgt. Clifford Davis said the homicide department continues to have two detectives working on the case full-time, but he was reluctant to say what leads detectives were following.

"We have suspects that we're looking at," but he admitted that the department is not close to filing charges against anyone.

Following is a review of Columbus homicides through July 31.

The first homicide of 1982 occurred on Jan. 1 at 2884 Joyce Ave. The victim, Roscoe McClanahan, 880 Caldwell Place Apt. 8, was allegedly burglarizing the resident when he was confronted by a neighbor, Bill Wiggins, who was holding a shotgun. Accordingly to police reports, the gun accidentally discharged. McClanahan died at 2:40 a.m. at Riverside Hospital.

Fairfield County Sheriff's Deputies found Leroy Lamb's body on Emswiler Rd., about 1/4 mile north of Black Rd. on Jan. 3. Homicide Detectives believe Lamb was killed at 85 E. Tompkins Ave. and dumped on Emswiler Rd. That same evening Columbus police officers had responded to a disturbance complaint at the Tompkins address. Blood was observed on the front porch but officers could not gain entry to the home at the time. Joseph Alomar and Michael Tinnon have been charged with aggravated murder.

Byron Sprague, 58, a Columbus school teacher, was found dead in his apartment at 47 King Ave. on Jan. 7, the victim of an apparent stabbing. James Lee Murphy, 18, 801 Hamlet St., was arrested and charged with one delinquency count of aggravated murder. Although Murphy was 17 at the time of the alleged murder he was bound over from juvenile court to stand trial as an adult.

A domestic argument on Jan. 11 ended in the death of 23-year-old Michael A. Robinson, 338 E. 8th Ave. Mackey Woods, also known as Michael Wood, 829 Rhoads Ave., Apt. A, has been charged with stabbing Robinson to death. Woods and his common-law wife had argued earlier in the evening of Jan. 10. She called members of her family to pick her up. Robinson and three other males arrived at the apartment and a fight followed. Robinson was pronounced dead at the scene.

Rodney Eugene Woods, 29, 787 N. Nelson Rd., was shot and killed by two police officers as he attempted to rob the McDonald's Restaurant, 800 E. Fifth Ave. about 6 a.m. on Jan. 18. Woods had taken the assistant manager, Robin Thompson as a hostage at gunpoint and attempted to flee the restaurant when he was shot and killed in the parking lot.

Four-year-old Joshua K. Sowers, 3511 Senator Court, was pronounced dead on arrival at Doctor's West Hospital at 10 p.m. on Jan. 29. According to police reports, the child's body showed signs of physical abuse, contusions and abrasions. The coroner ruled those injuries contributed to the child's death. The mother, Susan Jean Sowers, 28, is charged with endangering children. The mother's boyfriend, Dennis E. Fulk, was sentenced to 7-25 years in prison after being found guilty of endangering children and murder.

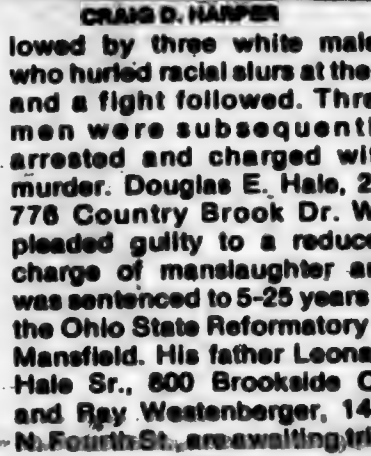

Mattie Ringer, 33, 394 1/2 Carpenter St., was shot and killed while attempting to put a man out of her house after an argument. According to police a struggle followed at the front door and Ringer was shot in the head. The suspect, John Herbert Scott, 21, 645 Morrill Ave., Apt. N, allegedly fled the scene and has not been apprehended. A murder charge has been filed against him. Ringer's young daughter witnessed the entire incident.

Five-year-old Benjamin Pernel Jr. was pronounced dead at 6:08 on Feb. 3. The coroner's office ruled that the cause of death was extensive brain damage. Benjamin Pernel Sr., 28, was charged with murder. According to police, Pernel had been in a violent domestic argument with the family and admitted striking the child with his hand. Further investigation revealed, according to the police report, that the child was alone with Pernel for a period of time during the argument and was fine prior to that. On June 16 Pernel was sentenced to 1-10 years in the Ohio State Penitentiary.

Ernest Shaw Jr. was stabbed to death after he, several friends and his common-law wife left the Three Duces Bar, 456 W. Town St., about 12:30 a.m. on Feb. 4. When they left the bar they allegedly were followed by three white males who hurled racial slurs at them and a fight followed. Three men were subsequently arrested and charged with murder. Douglas E. Hale, 21, 776 Country Brook Dr. W., pleaded guilty to a reduced charge of manslaughter and was sentenced to 5-25 years in the Ohio State Reformatory at Mansfield. His father Leonard Hale Sr., 600 Brookside Ct., and Ray Westenberg, 1459 N. Fourth St., are awaiting trial.

John Joseph Spanik, 18, 2271 Maplewood Dr., will go on trial Sept. 27 for the stabbing death of his friend, Mark Colussi, 16, 2211 Maplewood Dr. On Feb. 13 the two began arguing inside the Colussi home. The argument then moved outside where Colussi was stabbed. Homicide detectives were unsure of a motive since the two had been friends.

At 7:55 p.m. on Feb. 20 Harold R. Gibson, 756 Campbell Ave., began arguing with a group of males in the hallway at 991 1/2 N. High St. One man allegedly left the scene and returned with a handgun and shot Gibson. Gibson staggered out the front door and collapsed on the sidewalk. He was pronounced dead on arrival at Doctor's North Hospital. Roy Lee Jones, 20, 991 1/2 N. High St., Apt. G, was arrested and charged with aggravated murder.

Richard Lee Crabtree, 17, of 220 Loxley Rd., was shot and killed on Feb. 23 by Sgt. James Stratton. About 12:30 a.m. officers were dispatched to the area of 1028 Urana on a shooting incident. Officers spotted Crabtree walking westbound in front of 1028 Urana Ave. and ordered him to drop the weapon he was carrying.

Crabtree allegedly turned and aimed his weapon at the direction of the officers. Sgt. Stratton fired one blast with his shotgun wounding Crabtree in the forehead. He died March 3 at Riverside Hospital. The Franklin County grand jury refused to take any action against Stratton.

OSU President's Pre-Game Luncheon Scores Big With His Special Guests

The Ohio State-Baylor game signaled the beginning of the football season in "Buckeye Country." This match also signaled the onset of pre- and post-game parties that delight ardent OSU fans, boosters and supporters. Host and hostesses go all out to make these events festive and fun and invites to these parties are received with enthusiasm. From the first OSU game in September through the annual OSU-Michigan classic in late November, this is so.

Of the OSU football-related party invitations extended, few if any have the status that of receiving one from the occupant of room No. 205 of "Academic Row." An invitation to the traditional President's Pre-Game Luncheon, from the biggest OSU fan of all, Dr. Edward H. Jennings, president of Ohio State University, is in a class by itself.

President Jennings first pre-game luncheon was held in the beautiful main lounge of Drake Union overlooking the Olentangy River, change of location that was applauded.

Upon arrival, each guest was greeted with a warm hand shake from the president and a friendly, contagious smile from Mrs. Jennings, who obviously likes and enjoys people. From the luncheon were contributed by persons interested in promoting, preserving and improving the university's image in the community at large.

The President's guests list was a fine mixture of town and gown. Among those spotted in the crowd were Amos Lynch, general manager of The CALL and POST and Mrs. Lynch; Pete A. Kilsares, general manager of Western Electric and the 1982 chairman of the Central Ohio United Negro College Fund Campaign and Mrs. Kilsares; Dr. Edward Sullivan, dentist and president of the Merry Makers Club and Mrs. Sullivan; Robert Crane, president of Crane Plastics and chairman of the Joint Task Force appointed to study the Mental Health Board, by the Columbus Chamber of Commerce; Jarret C. Chavous, social program coordinator, Office of Special Grants-Ohio Bureau Employ-and Mrs. Krieger; Lewis R. Smoot Sr., president, The Sherman Smoot Co. and Mrs. Smoot; U.S. Rep. Bob Shamansky; Atty. Ben Espy, Councilman, City of Columbus, and Mrs. Espy and their daughter Amy.

Others who were seen enjoying the president's hospitality were Dr. Ralph Pruitt, dean special studies, Cleveland State University and his wife Dr. Ann Pruitt, associate dean of the Ohio State University Graduate School; U.S. Rep. Chalmers Wiley and Mrs. Wiley; Lawrence "Tal" Tolbert, president B and T Metal and Alberta Johnson; Michael Dorrian, Franklin County Commissioner and Mrs. Dorrian; Atty. Arthur Vorys of Vorys, Sater and Pease, law firm and chairman of the Coalition for Cost Effective Health Services and Mrs. Vorys; David Barker, vice president, Dollar Saving and Mrs. Barker, president of the Borden Foundation; Atty. William Johnson, president KBLE-Cable TV and Mrs. Johnson.

Also, Charles Lazarus, chairman emeritus, F. and R. Lazarus Co.; Herbert Moorehead, Manager Marketing, Ohio Bell, and Mrs. Moorehead; William Guthrie, retired banker and chairman of the Metropolitan Housing Board and Mrs. Guthrie; and William Schwanekamp, executive director of the United Way of Franklin County; Lucien Wright, retired educator and charter member of the Merry Makers Club and his guest, Hank Williams, Cleveland.

Others were Alex Shumate, office of the Ohio Attorney General; Warren Tyler, vice president State Savings, and Mrs. Tyler; Frank Lomax, president of the Columbus Urban

New Black Theatre Sets Debut Play For Oct. 1

Lovers of black theatre will rejoice over the news. Center Stage Theatre is alive, well, and ready to kick off its 1982-83 season.

The first CST production will open on Friday, Oct. 1, at 8 p.m. in the auditorium of the YWCA at 65 S. Fourth St. — CST's new theatrical home.

"Who's Got His Own" by black playwright Ron Milner will run every Friday and Saturday beginning at 8 p.m. and Sunday matinees at 2:30 p.m. throughout October with the final offering on Sunday, Oct. 24.

Director for the season opener is Jennine Sessoms of DCSC and volunteer executive director of CST. Ms. Sessoms directed "We're Making A Joyful Noise" at COSI last December and appeared in local productions of "Don't Bother Me, I Can't Cope" and "Five On The Black Hand Side."

Other productions scheduled for the new season include weekend runs from Jan. 7 to Jan. 30, of James Baldwin's "Amen Corner" with New Yorker Dale Shields directing. From April 8 to May 1, CST will present weekend runs of "The Dozens," and on weekends from July 8 to July 31 "Mighty Gents" will be the offering.

Center Stage Theatre is a non-profit, metropolitan Columbus community theatre, staffed totally by volunteers. The purpose of CST, according to its board president, Don Day, "...is to provide an opportunity for blacks and other minorities to exercise and demonstrate their theatrical talents."

Day is First Vice President of the 35,000-member union, AFSCME (AFL-CIO, Council 8). He heads the newly elected board that picked up the pieces of the dormant Columbus Stage Center Theatre, renamed it Center Stage Theatre and totally reorganized the group. In addition to Day, the new board officers are warehouse worker Tom Kaplin, vice president, music educator Nannette Reynolds, secretary and Hilltop Community Health Center director Barbara Tuney, treasurer. Other board members are educator Catherine Willis, photo-artist KoJo Kamau, car dealer Joe Lyman, KBLE vice president Gloria Johnson, Paul Streibig of Arthur Anderson & Associates, civic activist Judy Baltimore, Walterine "Renie" Scott of DCSC, Community attracted many dignitaries, including Mayor Tom Moody, the Fire Chief, Safety Director Bernard Chupka, all of whom performed a formal hand salute to Gates as the casket, draped in flag was being carried atop a fire truck.

The procession began from the Union Grove Baptist Church, 266 N. Champion Ave., where Rev. Charles Booth delivered a gripping eulogy, titled "Meeting That Hour."

The body of Gates borne in a solemn procession passed underneath crossed aerial ladders at Broad and High Streets, and continued west on Broad Street past Engine House No. 10, 1006 W. Broad St., where Gates was stationed, and finally to the west gate of the Greenlawn Cemetery for burial.

Gates is survived by his mother, Mrs. Callie Scales; brother, Ronald Gates; stepfather, Aaron Scales and other relatives and friends.

Bishop Retires Following Nine Year Commitment

Columbus, Herrmann has often been at the center of conflict. He never hesitated to speak out loud and clear against traditional social concerns such as hunger and poverty.

He supported amnesty for Vietnam draft resisters and deserters saying, "society's best interests are served by forgiveness and reintegration."

Herrmann also joined a demonstration against the building of B-1 bomber parts at the Rockwell International Corp. plant at 4300 E. Fifth Ave.

It was Herrmann's belief that the Catholic church should be a leader in outlining the issues of justice and peace. He said the church had to review the moral and spiritual dimensions of peace and warfare.

His outspokenness often put him in the center of controversy but he stated that "as bishop you have to take, sometimes, the positions that are controversial, that cause reaction and conflict in people."

"I have received pros and cons from church and lay people alike. But by and large, I think what I have done here has been accepted," Herrmann added.

"I thus realize and acknowledge my thanks first to the good Lord. My ministry here has been an enjoyment. Any success is due to God and the assistance of countless people of all categories."

John Scales' Parole Hearing May Be Delayed

the Business Manager position of the predominantly black local, also held a seat on the executive board. He resigned from those positions following his indictment on 18 counts of violating federal law. He also resigned his seat on the Columbus Metropolitan Housing Authority after his indictment.

In the meantime, Local 423 was placed under a trusteeship by the International Union. And subsequently, the name of John Scales which graced the Local's impressive office building at 620 Alum Creek Dr., in man-high letters was removed. In 1980, the trusteeship was lifted with the local once again being managed by a staff of elected officials.

During Scales' lengthy May 31, 1978, trial before a jury in the U.S. District Court with Judge Joseph Kinneary presiding, the prosecution argued that Scales committed fraud in that he took trips to Los Angeles, Las Vegas and Miami and promoted a Gospel Singing Group on various union funds, including the union's charity funds.

Scales, who resided with his wife at 1326 E. Deshler Ave., was found innocent of six of the 18 count indictment. He surrendered to authorities to begin his sentence after the 6th Circuit Court of Appeals in Cincinnati, upheld his conviction.

Although more than a dozen others involved in the bizarre scandal were let off with either probation or light jail terms, Scales was handed a 10 year prison sentence, obviously because he was the boss.

The case was brought to trial following a year-long investigation by the FBI and other federal authorities.

Scales, who was once recognized as the most powerful black person in the area of local politics and civic affairs and the labor movement, is presently known at the prison as No. 60177-061, is assigned to a work camp, according to the Federal Bureau of Prisons. And all things considered, he may be there until at least 1986.

But whether he misused thousands of dollars of union funds as the prosecution charged, and whether he serves out his full term, it is virtually certain that hundreds of poor families, black and white, will long remember John Scales for making it possible for them to enjoy delicious dinners on Thanksgiving Day and on Christmas.

And as the old saying goes, John E. Scales may be gone, but there is no way for his good and unselfish deeds to be forgotten.

session. "It was a terrific learning experience," said one young lady, "one that gave me a totally different view from the classroom. I met a lot of people...key people in many areas. And I think that was the key. You can't be well-versed in any field without getting to know people."

Showing a prescience beyond his 17 years, another said, "The program has made me even more aware that today corporations have to be ready to expand into Third World and even Communist-bloc countries in order to keep growing. In the technological age that's coming, business has to be ready to take advantage of any situation. The young people of today are getting involved at just the right time."

The 30 youngsters became aware of the myriad opportunities available in the world of business. "Before this program," said Kim Woods of Mattapan, Massachusetts, "I thought business was just business. But we got a look at so many different aspects of big business—like finance, management and marketing—that now I know I definitely want a marketing career."

"The big thing that I came away with," said Jung-Suk Suh of Los Angeles, "is that business really is a creative occupation...not just numbers."

That's exactly the attitude that PepsiCo and other sponsors are hoping the youngsters will come away with. Through the LEAD program PepsiCo and Columbia hope to persuade these and hundreds of other young people to consider business as a career. In that way PepsiCo and LEAD are addressing not only a social need, but also they are investing in our nation's future.

Jackson Indicted

Post deadline.

The grand jury heard evidence presented by the prosecution in the Franklin County Hall of Justice throughout Tuesday afternoon. Testimony was offered by four women and two Columbus City Police during the closed-door hearing.

Prior to the hearing, the prosecution indicated that it would seek multi-counts of indictments. The prosecution, however, normally requests higher bond after a suspect has been indicted.

The jury of seven females and five males remained in session until about 5 p.m. Tuesday before adjourning. At that time it was announced that its decision would come down Wednesday morning. There were three blacks, one Oriental, and seven whites on the jury.

The grand jury decides only whether a crime has been committed and whether there is probable cause to have a suspect face trial. They may accept police reports as a basis for returning indictments or may ask to hear additional evidence from the alleged victims.

Jackson, according to police, was arrested about 6 a.m. after breaking into the Fitzhenry Blvd. apartment. They sought a search warrant for Jackson's 1973 Mercedes Benz because a rapist they had been seeking used a flashlight, wore a ski mask and tied his victims with ropes that had a knot in each end, police said.

Three such ropes, a ski mask and a flashlight were found in the home where Jackson was arrested on a burglary and possession of criminal tools, police reported.

These items were apparently presented to the grand jury as its strongest evidence.

Jackson, following his arrest, resigned from the Trustee Board of St. Anthony Hospital and from the medical staff of Mt. Carmel Hospital and was suspended by both hospitals as a medical attendant, pending final disposition of the charges. However, Jackson continues to maintain offices in The Tower of St. Anthony. He had been on the staff of both hospitals since 1974.

The Hilltop Health Center also accepted Jackson's resignation as medical director.

Jackson, police reported, was indicted on charges of possession of burglary tools in 1972 but the charge was later dismissed. He was arrested that time while walking in an alley between Chittenden and E. 12th Aves. near Indianola Ave., records show, police said.

Jackson's trial date will probably be set within the next several weeks, according to the prosecutor's office.

STREET LIFE

Gap Gets Zapped At Center, Rick James On The Way!

By ARNETT HOWARD

Last Thursday the Ohio Center was alive with the funk as Al Hamlin, Ron Patterson and J.G. Productions sponsored an evening with the Dazz Band, Goody, Roger Troutman and Zapp and the headliners were the very successful Gap Band.

The show was a marathon, starting at 7:30 p.m. and letting go at 1 a.m. We estimated that about 4-5000 zappers, gappers and rappers were on hand for the celebration. And the mostly teenaged crowd was sporting some super fashions that would even make Ebony designers take notice.

Dazz, Cleveland's hit makers who have been on top all summer, with "Let It Whip", were cheated by, having to squeeze their act into 25 minutes at the beginning. They were followed by Goody, the Popsickle Man, whose tune "I Feel Like I Want To Do Something" is getting airplay on KO 16, followed.

Roger Troutman rode in on the shoulders of the Ohio Center Security and fired up the fans with short versions of his many hits and his 45 minute set ended with him shaking clean out of his clothes and exhorting the crowd to "Let Me See You Do It On The Dance Floor." There wasn't an exhausted fan in the house after the Zapp set.

The Wilson Brothers, the Gap Band, is indulging in all the excesses of the music world. Their entourage includes four Florida made custom coaches, four limos and two tractor trailers to haul the tons of equipment and bodies. There are also sixteen musicians on stage to deliver the punch that has made Gap famous with "Oops Upside Your Head," "Burn Rubber on Me," "Early in the Morning" and "Drop The Bomb."

They worked hard for 90 minutes but the after midnight audience had been all worked out by Roger and Zapp and the one hour delay between sets. Charlie Wilson, leader of the group, pulled the crowd to join him in the sing-alongs but there was little left to let loose.

Promoter Ron Patterson has a date scheduled in Dayton with the groups October 1st and he announced three Ohio shows with Rick James and the Stone City Band next month. October 14 will bring Rick back to the Ohio Center and the 18th and 19th will have the superstar entertaining for Cincinnati at the Riverfront.

Chris Powell and Morris Payne, of the group Nytro, are Columbus natives who are part of the horn line for the Stone City Band. They have been living in Los Angeles for several years and were known around the city in the early seventies with the Soul Superbs and Blind Justice.

Another funky rocker that was in the crowd at the Gap-Zapp show was Richardo Johnson, taping some segments for his cable viewed "Funky Rock Show". He has three air times weekly on Channel 3, Tuesday at 9:30 p.m., Friday night at 12:30 a.m. and Saturday morning at 11 a.m.

Talent runs in the Johnson family, with Richardo's younger brother Michael, recently releasing a locally produced single "Spitfire". He is looking at local retailers to distribute his disc and if you're interested in a good young artist, call Michael at 475-1889.

Paul Brock, media consultant to the National Afro American Museum called us to inform the world that the ground breaking ceremonies for the Cultural Center will be taking place in Xenia, on the grounds of Wilberforce University, October 25. For more information, Mr. Brock can be reached at 466-1500.

Paul was also kind enough to bring a representative of the Negro Ensemble Company to our offices for an interview last week. Ethel Ayler has acquired a diverse background in show business since she first got to New York from Mobile, Alabama in 1957. A Flak University graduate, she toured Europe as a leading character with Cab Calloway in "Porgy and Bess", appeared off Broadway in Langston Hughes' last play "Simply Heavenly", with Lena Horne's "Jamaica" and joined the Douglas Turner Ward company of repertory actors in the early 1960's.

She told us about the glorious history of the Negro Ensemble Company when its professional company included Moses Gunn, Esther Rolle, Denise Nicholas, Rosalind Cash, Frances Foster, Clarice Taylor, Hattie Winston, Robert Hooks, and Cicely Tyson. She remembers the quality of skills and talents among the players was such that Doug Ward could trust the actors to extend themselves with complete confidence that they would complement the play.

The Negro Ensemble won a Pulitzer Prize in 1981 with "The Soldiers Play" and the company is bringing the Samm-Art Williams play "Home" to the Ohio Theatre, October 14 and 15. Tickets are available at the box office and group discounts are available. The information number for the Ohio Theatre is 469-0839.

Greg Pearson and Vincent Andrews are planning to unleash some new music together during the month of October at the Ambassador Lounge (3210 Allegheny Ave.). Congratulations go out to former Columbus resident Tommie Johnson, an organist and pianist who played for the Greater Emmanuel Apostolic Church. Now he's performing on Broadway with Vinnie Carroll's "Your Arms Are Too Short To Box With God", starring Patty Labelle and Al Green.

You can write a congratulations to Tommie at 512 Fifth Street, Brooklyn, New York, 11215.

IT'S GONNA BE KINDA SPECIAL: There will be good music at the United Negro College Fund Silver Anniversary Dinner on Oct. 21. James L. Allen, associate national development director, has engaged the popular Glenn Covington Orchestra for the evening.

Congrats go out to Murray who is the mid morning replacement for the recently hospitalized Cheryl Jordan on KO 16 (WVCO). Ike also remains on the staff of WCMH-TV as a cameraman.

Murray, what are going to do with all that money?

Another photo called us with some news. Roddy Rogers is a news staff member of WBNS-TV and he reported that he was attacked by the Columbus Police who are enthusiastically seeking the "Grandview Rapist."

Roddy is under medical care for possible facial fractures and is awaiting word from his attorney before releasing details for publication.

Congratulations go out to Kevin and Armita Webb on the birth of future Jazz 104 announcer Kevin Webb II. From Uncle Arnett.

With birth there is death. Wyman Hawkins enjoyed this life as a drummer and vocalist with various musical organizations including the Earl Hood Orchestra. We saw him last year drumming at the Ebony Fashion Fair, before he entered the hospital with a brain tumor.

His brother Wendell was a well respected musician and both brothers were members of Local 589, the black musician's local. Wyman is survived by his wife Hope and several children. He was buried last Wednesday.

You were loved, Wyman! Bright Moments!

Negro Ensemble Brings Broadway Drama To Ohio

"Flawless" is the description the N.Y. Times gave the Negro Ensemble Company's production of "Home" by actor-playwright Samm-Art Williams. The Tony Award Nominee for 1980 best play returns first-class Broadway drama to the Ohio Theatre for a limited engagement starting Oct. 14-15.

Presented by the Columbus Association for the Performing Arts, "Home" features the original New York touring company with Samuel L. Jackson as the young farmer making his way to the northern big city. Columbus is the only Ohio city to see the drama which won the Audelco Award for the best play of 1980. The play's tour includes stops in Washington, Philadelphia, the Knoxville World's Fair and the Dublin, Ireland, Arts Festival.

The N.Y. Post praised the script as a "shamelessly sentimental piece of goods, written with such good humor and presented in such good faith that it fairly earns every emotion it goes after."

Samm-Art Williams appeared last season as film actor in the Ohio Theatre world premiere of "The Denmark Vessey Rebellion." He hails from Burgaw, North Carolina, and has been a member of the Negro Ensemble Company's Playwright Workshop since 1974. The unusual spelling of his name is the result of Actor's Equity union already listing another actor by the name Samuel Williams.

Although "Home" is about a young black man's circular journey from his roots and back, according to critic Marilyn Stasio, its simple story has the epic sweep of a universal myth.

When the young Cephus leaves his farm in Cross Roads, North Carolina and comes to no good in the big city, He travels in the same boots worn by countless wandering heroes of traditional legend and folk tales.

When he comes back home to the land and the woman he left behind, the audience trots along in spirit at his heels. "Home" speaks in a forthright manner that puts a lyrical tongue in a folk teller's head.

Directed by Douglas Turner Ward, the artistic director of the Negro Ensemble Company, "Home" is one of many NEC plays to receive dramatic honors. This year's Pulitzer Prize went to "A Soldier Play", the latest of the Negro Ensemble Company's quality performances.

Tickets for "Home" and other CAPA productions for the 1982-83 season went on sale on Sept. 15. Call the Ohio Theatre ticket office for further information (614) 489-0939.

HOME STARS -- Eptha Morton, Samuel Jackson and Elaine Graham are three members of the acclaimed Negro Ensemble Company that will be appearing at the Ohio Theatre, Oct. 14 and 15 in the Samm-Art Williams play, "Home".

The event is part of the fall series of the Columbus Association for the Performing Arts and group discounts can be arranged by calling 489-0939.

M*A*S*H Bash Set. Sept. 25

Tickets are still available for the Saint Anthony Hospital fund-raise, M*A*S*H Bash II, to be held Saturday, Sept. 25.

The evening will include a M*A*S*H character look-alike contest, an auction for valuable items, live music, an open bar, hot and cold hors d'oeuvres and a prime rib dinner -- all in a 4077th-style military atmosphere.

The event will be held in a mock M*A*S*H Unit constructed in the Saint Anthony Hospital parking lot. Guests are invited to attend in old service uniforms, or in the garb of their favorite M*A*S*H character to sip wine poured from a recreated version of Hawkeye's famous still.

Tickets for the evening will consist of dog tags, which can be worn into the party and will identify the owner at the bar and "chow line". Priced at $40 per person, the cost of the evening is tax-exempt, as provided by law.

For ticket information, contact the Department of Development at 251-3044.

Friday Marks Beginning Of '82 City League Grid Race

Now that most of the City League football teams have a couple of non-conference games under their belts it's time for the real action to begin.

nesday through Sunday with post time at 1:30 p.m. daily.

The Ohio State University Golf Courses will be the site on this weekend's Lady Northern American Conference opponent for the second week in a row. The Wildcats will emerge victorious against Northern Illinois.

If you don't like that one, how about this projection? The National Football League strike will last for three weeks. No, we're not taking bets.

SPORTS LINE

By FELIX HOOVER

If you're afraid that you won't meet your weekly diet requirement of football, you might consider attending any of the following games.

East will be at Whetstone, Millin at Linden-McKinley, Centennial at Northland, while Beechcroft travels to Brookhaven.

Eastmoor will entertain Briggs, Marion-Franklin will host Walnut Ridge and South will greet Independence.

Only West High will face non-league opposition as they play a home game against Dayton Patterson.

All games begin at 7:30 p.m.

Bobcats Squish Spiders In Ohio Stadium Benefit Bowl

By FELIX HOOVER

Both the visitors and the home team were in unfamiliar territory as Ohio University hosted the University of Richmond in Ohio Stadium last Saturday.

It was strange to see empty seats in the stadium on a football Saturday, but there were enough spectators present to help raise money for Children's Hospital.

Although the game was somewhat sloppily played, it was close enough to be exciting. By afternoon's end, OU prevailed with a 23-14 win.

Besides raising funds for the hospital, the contest also permitted several Bobcats to play before their hometown crowd.

Running back Glenn Hunter came off the bench to shore up the Bobcats' running game.

The former South High quarterback, who transferred to OU from Louisville, did his job as he punched in two touchdowns from close range.

Tight end Bob Henton, also a South High product, showed good concentration in chasing an overthrown pass across the sidelines. Unfortunately, he ran into a video cameraman in the process. Both seemed shaken up but not seriously injured.

Eric Edwards, formerly of Independence, put in a solid performance from his free safety position.

Former Cleveland St. Joseph player Eddie Washington started at flanker and helped Ohio U post its first win of the Head Start Sets Monthly Meeting

The Columbus Metropolitan Area Community Action Organization's (CMCAO) Head Start Program will be hosting the bi-monthly meeting of the Ohio Head Start Association, Inc., Tuesday, Sept. 28, 8:30 am. - 5 p.m., Holiday Inn, 328 W. Lane Ave. according to Mary T. Patterson, Ohio Head Start Handicap Advocate.

Head Start is a pre-school educational developmental program operated in Franklin County, the program is for children from low income families between the ages of 3-5 years of age.

"The main objective of Head Start is to enhance the level of social and educational competence in our children, we accomplish this by providing activities that stimulate the intellectual, social, emotional and self-help development of each child," Patterson said.

Head Start is also mandated to incorporate into its total enrollment no less than 10 percent handicapped children.

For more information call CMCAO Head Start, 221--9936.

Garcia Lane, despite a fumbled punt return against Michigan State, seems to be in good form in the return department. Don't be surprised if he pops one all the way in the near future.

Fans got their first look at too much-publicized freshmen, tailback Kelvin Lindsey and fullback Keith Byars. Both made impressive debuts against MSU and should provide many enjoyable moments for Buckeye partisans in the future.

Elway Airway Presents Next Test For Buckeye Gridders

"Stanford Football--More than a passing fancy" is the motto distributed by the Cardinals of California. The truth of the statement will be tested Saturday when Stanford invades Ohio Stadium for a noon kickoff. The game will start earlier than originally scheduled to make the air on ABC (WTVN-TV 6 locally).

Quarterback John Elway continues the tradition of arm-loaded performers from the West who are always willing to test opposing secondaries. In last year's 24-19 loss to Ohio State Elway completed 28 of 42 passes in racking up 248 yards. An All-American candidate, Elway has already picked up 715 yards and six touchdowns via the air, and that's just for two games.

The senior quarterback and his teammates will be trying to bounce back from Saturday's 35-31 defeat at the hands of San Jose State, which is coached by Elway's father Jack.

The Elways aren't the only folks from the Coast whose family ties make them print-worthy.

Greg Hooper, who worked his way into the number one spot at fullback, has an older brother Chip who came to Columbus this summer and earned a semi-finals match against Jimmy Connors at the National Revenue Tennis Classic.

Third string halfback Robert Mitchell is the son of former Cleveland Browns and Washington Redskins star Bobby Mitchell.

Of course there is a member of the Central Ohio family on the Stanford squad, former Chillicothe multi-sport hero Garin Veris. The 6-6, 250 pound sophomore has had his problems with injuries the last couple of years, but has still been a big man in the plans for both offense and defense.

Ohio State looked like it would have to alter some of its offensive plans in last Saturday's game against Michigan State. The Spartans were extremely stingy in fielding yardage up until the fourth quarter. OSU finally got cranked up enough to chalk up a 31-10 victory.

bring along sophomore quarterback Mike Tomczak at a fairly slow pace, so it will be interesting to see how Saturday's contest against Stanford unfolds. Will the Bucks' corps of receivers figure more prominently in the action? They will eventually if this is to be a great man.

Garcia Lane, despite a fumbled punt return against Michigan State, seems to be in good form in the return department. Don't be surprised if he pops one all the way in the near future.

Fans got their first look at too much-publicized freshmen, tailback Kelvin Lindsey and fullback Keith Byars. Both made impressive debuts against MSU and should provide many enjoyable moments for Buckeye partisans in the future.

Black Legacy Is Unvelled With Jesse Owens Statue

(CLEVELAND BUREAU)

A statue of Jesse Owens was unveiled by the Cuyahoga County Commissioners in Huntington Park near the County Court House on Lakeside Avenue, this week.

Jesse Owens, likely the greatest known of track and field stars, was immortalized arms up bursting through the finish line with broken tape clinging to his chest.

Owens was born in Alabama but attended Fairmount Junior High School, East Technical High School in Cleveland, and Ohio State University.

"We honor a great athlete and native son," said Cuyahoga County Commissioner

President Virgil Brown. "We unveil a legacy given us by this great American and world citizen, and with this sculpture seek to perpetuate for future generations the accomplishments and the example of this patriot and good man."

Jesse Owens' sister, LaVerne Hardy, took part in the unveiling and was pleased with the statue. Other relatives present were Jean Allen, Ernestine Smith, Alma Thomas, Ronald Smith, and Leah Martin.

Harrison Dillard, friend of the late Owens said, "Jesse was my idol." Dillard felt that the statue would help perpetuate Owens' memory.

Owens is best remembered for his astonishing feats during the 1936 Olympics in Berlin, Germany. He won gold medals in the 100-meters, the 200-meters, the 400-meters relay and the running broad jump. That year Owens broke two Olympic records and one world record.

The sculptor, William McVey, said that he attended Shaw High School while Owens attended East Technical High. The sculpture was funded with monies from the George Gund Foundation.

DIGESTER MODIFICATIONS

The work for which proposals are invited consists of the following:
Furnishing all labor, material, equipment and incidentals required to remove existing hot water boilers; provide new hot water boilers, external heat exchangers and sludge pumps; provide hot water, sludge, digester gas and fuel oil piping, valves and appurtenances; provide all electrical instrumentation and control systems; and provide all other Work as may be necessary to complete the Work in accordance with the Contract Documents.

Bids shall be on lump sum basis.
Copies of the Contract Documents consisting of (1) the Project Manual which includes the Advertisement, Instructions to Bidders, Proposal, Proposal Guaranty, Contract, Contract Bond, State and Federal Regulations, Special Provisions and Supplemental Specifications; (2) the Contract Drawings; and (3) the City of Columbus, Ohio Construction and Material Specifications (CMSC) dated 1981 are on file and may be examined at the Finance Office, Room 323, City Hall, and at the office of the Design Consultant: Malcolm Pirnie, Inc., 6161 Busch Boulevard, Columbus, Ohio 43229.

Copies of the Contract Documents (with the exception of the CMSC) may be purchased by prospective Bidders through the office of the above mentioned Design Consultant upon payment of $45.00 per set. Refunds will be made for one set of Contract Documents per company returned in accordance with the Instructions to Bidders. Checks are to be made payable to Malcolm Pirnie, Inc.

Copies of the CMSC may be examined and/or purchased at the Office of Director of Public Service, City Hall, Columbus, Ohio.

Proposals must be submitted on the Proposal Forms contained in the Project Manual and the said Project Manual must be submitted in ITS ENTIRETY in a sealed envelope marked:

BID FOR:

DIGESTER MODIFICATIONS

Bidders shall provide proof of qualifications to perform the Work as described in Paragraph 4 of the Instructions to Bidders.

The Bidder is required to submit a Proposal Guaranty (certified check or Proposal Bond in the form provided hereto) in accordance with Paragraph 10 of the Instructions to Bidders. The amount of the Proposal Guaranty shall not be less than ten (10) percent of the bid submitted.

Contract time of commencement and completion will be in accordance with the Contract.

A Contract Bond of 100 percent of the amount of the Contract, with a satisfactory surety or sureties, will be required for the faithful performance of the Work as described in Paragraph 19 of the Instructions to Bidders.

Attention of the Bidder is called to the special requirements which are included in the Contract Documents regarding prevailing rates of wages to be paid. Particular attention is called to the statutory requirements of the State of Ohio relative to licensing of corporations organized under the laws of any other State.

Any Contract or contracts awarded under this Advertisement are expected to be funded in part by a grant from the United States Environmental Protection Agency (USEPA). Neither the United States nor any of its Departments, Agencies or employees is or will be a party to this Advertisement of any resulting contract. The procurement will be subject to regulations contained in 40 CFR 35.938 35.939 and the USEPA policy and goal regarding the increased use of Minority Business Enterprise (MBE). The policy as well as the cited regulations are contained in the Project Manual. The MBE goal for this Contract is 10% - 15%.

In accordance with USEPA recommended procedures, a pre-bid meeting has been scheduled for October 12, 1982 at 10:00 o'clock A.M. Local Time in the Council Chambers in City Hall, 90 W. Broad Street, Columbus, Ohio. Bidders MBE requirements will be reviewed at this meeting. All potential contractors, subcontractors, minority business enterprises (MBE's) and other interested parties are invited to attend.

The successful Bidder also must comply with the provisions of (a) the Davis-Bacon Act; (b) Contract work hours standard act; (c) the Copeland Act (Anti-Kickback); (d) Title IV of the Civil Rights Act of 1964; and (e) Labor Standards Provisions.

NONDISCRIMINATION IN EMPLOYMENT: Bidders will be required to comply with the President's Executive Order No. 11246, as amended. The requirements for Bidders and Contractors under this order are explained in the Specifications and in 40 CFR 27.101.

NONSEGREGATED FACILITIES: Bidders are cautioned as follows: By submitting a Bid, the Bidder will be deemed to have signed and agreed to the provisions of the "Certification of Nonsegregated Facilities"; in this solicitation. The certification provides that the Bidder does not maintain or provide for his employees facilities which are segregated on a basis of race, creed, color or national origin, whether such facilities are segregated by directive or on a de facto basis. The certification also provides that the Bidder will not maintain such segregated facilities. Failure of a Bidder to agree to the Certification of Nonsegregated Facilities will render his Bid nonresponsive to the terms of solicitations involving awards of contracts exceeding $10,000 which are not exempt from the provisions of the Equal Opportunity Clause.

EQUAL EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITY: As part of the procedure for determining the ability of contractors to comply with the Equal Opportunity Clause, prospective Bidders may be requested to attend a meeting scheduled by the United States Environmental Protection Agency prior to the opening of the Bids where they will be instructed in the Equal Employment Opportunity requirements of the agency. No Bid will be deemed responsive unless the Bidder's certification and other EEO information required by the Specifications is submitted with the Bid. The Contract shall be subject to the applicable compliance standards and procedures of 40 CFR, Part 8, Equal Employment Opportunity Under USEPA Contracts and USEPA Assisted Construction Contracts.

Each responsive Bidder shall submit, with its Bid, a contract compliance certification number or a completed application for certification. Minority business enterprises and female business enterprises bidding on contracts shall also include a contract compliance number or a completed application for certification. Within fifteen (15) days after the opening of Bids, unless extended by the contracting agency, in writing, the Apparent Low Responsive Bidder shall notify the Contract Compliance Administrator in writing of the subcontractors it will ultimately use to fulfill the Contract, if awarded. The Bidder shall also provide the Administrator with all the necessary certification numbers of those subcontractors, together with documentation of its effort expended in attempting to meet the ten percent goal for minority business enterprises and the two percent goal for female business enterprises set forth in C.C. 3907.02, if it has met that goal. If the information provided does not demonstrate either that the Apparent Low Responsive Bidder will achieve the goal or that it has made a good faith effort to meet the goal, the Bid may be rejected. This process may then be adopted for subsequent low Bidders. Compliance with the provisions of the Contract Compliance Code is a condition of the Contract. Failure to comply with this Code may result in cancellation of the Contract.

The right is reserved by the Director of Public Service of the City of Columbus, Ohio, to reject any or all Bids, and to hold Bids for a period of 120 days after the bid opening for evaluating both the Proposals and Contractors. The award of the Contract may be made at any time during that period.

BANK ONE'S MONEY MARKET DEPOSIT ACCOUNT GIVES YOU A QUICK RETURN AT MONEY MARKET RATES.

Super7 SAVINGS

BANK ONE's SUPER SEVEN SAVINGS Plan is a great way for savings customers to earn money market rates for funds on deposit for a term as short as seven days. Just keep a minimum deposit of $20,000 in the SUPER SEVEN SAVINGS Plan and you can make additional deposits of any amount. Each deposit matures in only seven days so you always have easy access to your money. You can withdraw your money or your interest earned after a deposit matures, or you can simply let the account automatically renew for another seven days.

The interest you earn on a SUPER SEVEN account is tied to the 91-day U.S. Treasury Bill rate and will change weekly, so you can be assured you will always be earning a fair money market rate. SUPER SEVEN customers will receive a complete monthly statement of all deposits, withdrawals and interest earned.

Now you can put your money back in the bank and get a quick return on your funds at money market rates. And your SUPER SEVEN SAVINGS Plan is insured by an agency of the Federal government.

Stop by any BANK ONE office for details.

There is a substantial interest penalty for early withdrawal.
